Description

This exclusive, low-density private tropical estate consists of just 20 pool villas in a modern tropical contemporary style, with accents and hints of the local culture woven into the architectural details. We call this “natural opulence”; a feeling derived from the high ceilings and full length doors creating natural light and ventilation constructed to a practical design whilst retaining key aesthetic form and all within a short distance of stunning tropical beaches. This villa is set within lush tropical foliage and orientated to maximize both natural light and ventilation benefitting from the cooling sea breezes blowing gently from the nearby beach.
